Unifold Holdings take great pride in their highly trained, qualified and dedicated workforce, who in turn take great pride in the products they make. Unifold holdings have a strong team of sixteen employees, six of whom were involved in the NSW Schools Project.

The dedicated staff, and the expertise and innovation of Unifold Holdings were utilised recently in providing walls for the classrooms of schools in the NSW Schools Project. Unifold's involvement entailed the manufacture of acoustic operable walls and accordion doors for the general and special learning areas. These walls and doors were specially adapted for educational use, incorporating full height pinboards and pass doors. The products supplied by Unifold were manufactured to provide user specific sound barriers, effectively restricting sound from escaping the confines of each room, facilitating versatile use of space in surrounding learning spaces.

Unifold Holdings place stringent guidelines on their products. All the products used in the NSW Schools Project have been modified specifically for school use and are fully tested and approved for use in all Government schools in NSW, Queensland, Victoria, Northern Territory and Western Australia. However, the products incorporate variations in specifications between states, and Unifold are now established as a clear market leader in this specialist field.

Unifold Holdings have previously supplied interior wall solutions to most metropolitan public schools in Sydney. Unifold have also supplied wall solutions to the Liverpool Catholic Club and the State Rail Authority Headquarters (Henry Deane Building) at Sydney Central Station. Unifold have also been involved in Queensland based projects such as The Sharks Australian Rules Football Club Five Star Function Centre in Southport and The Robina Town Centre Community Centre on the Gold Coast.
